conducted him to the chair; where his Grace ſtanding on the left hand of the chair, and the Vice-chancellor on the right, the Vice-chancellor addreſſed himſelf to him in an Engliſh ſpeech; after which he preſented to his Grace the patent of office; which was read aloud by the ſenior Proctor.

The Vice-chancellor alſo preſented to his Grace the book of ſtatutes; and then, taking his Grace's right hand in his own, the ſenior Proctor adminiſtered to his Grace the oath of office; which being done the Vice-chancellor placed his Grace in the chair. The Rev. Mr. Yonge, Fellow of Trinity-college, and Orator of the univerſity, then made a ſpeech, in Latin, to his Grace in the name of the whole Senate; to which, and to the Vice-chancellor's ſpeech, his Grace made an anſwer in Engliſh.

After which, an Ode, compoſed on the occaſion by Mr. Maſon, Fellow of Pembroke-hall, and ſet to muſic by Mr. Boyce, Compoſer to his Majeſty, was performed; which being done, his Grace the Chancellor, the Vice-chancellor, and Members of the Senate, with the Nobility, Biſhops, &c. walked in proceſſion to Trinity-college, where an entertainment was provided for them. The whole was conducted with the greateſt order and regularity.

On Sunday his Grace went to St. Mary's church in the morning and afternoon, with the uſual formalities; the ſermon in the morning was preached by the Rev. Dr. Green, Fellow of St. John's-college, and Regius Profeſſor of Divinity; and that in the afternoon, by the Rev. Dr. Squire, of St. John's-college, Archdeacon of Bath, and Chaplain to his Grace.

On Monday the 3d inſtant, ſeveral Noblemen, and other Perſons of Diſtinction, were admitted, by his Grace and the Senate, to the following degrees, viz.
